ABSTRACT

Forty tables present the following types of information about nursing education in New York State: the number of applications received for nursing programs; the number of new students admitted; total program enrollment; graduations according to sex and racial/ethnic origin of students; the number of unfilled places; and the number of qualified applicants that the program could not accommodate. Statistics are also included that compare the performance of first-time New York State candidates taking the National Council Licensure Examinations for registered nurses and practical nurses to national statistics. The educational preparation of nurse faculty members is also presented, according to the types of nursing programs. The data are presented for 5-year periods, where possible, and by Regents Planning Regions to aid in following trends and regional differences. Data are based on the 1986 annual report submitted by schools of nursing. The following are appended: a glossary; a list of counties in the eight higher education planning regions of the state; and a map showing Regents Planning Regions and the number of programs preparing students for eligibility to the registered nurse and practical nurse examinations. FOREWORD

Nursing Education – 1986 presents information on the number of applications received for nursing programs; the number of new students admitted, total program enrollment, and graduations according to sex and racial/ethnic origin of students; the number of unfilled places; and the number of qualified applicants that the program could not accommodate. The report also includes statistics comparing the performance of first-time New York State candidates taking the National Council Licensure Examinations for registered nurses and practical nurses to national statistics. Educational preparation of nurse faculty members is presented according to the types of nursing programs. The data are presented for five-year periods where possible and by Regents Planning Regions so that the reader can follow trends and observe regional differences.

Nursing Education – 1986 is intended to assist in statewide planning for nursing education. Such planning is central to assuring quality health care to individuals, families, and communities throughout New York State.

This report is based upon the 1986 annual reports submitted by schools of nursing in New York to the State Education Department's Nursing Education Unit. Without the cooperation and contributions of the schools of nursing, a report such as this would not be possible.

APPENDIX

I. Glossary

1. New student: any student not previously enrolled in the nursing program at your institution.

2. Transfer student: any student who transfers from another curriculum in the institution or from another institution.

3. Admitted students: those who are formally enrolled and identified as nursing majors by the institution, whether or not enrolled in nursing courses.

4. Full-time students: any student enrolled in courses for 12 credits or more.

5. Part-time students: any student enrolled in courses for less than 12 credits.

6. Nurse faculty member: a member of the institution's faculty who teaches in the nursing program or functions in the administration of the nursing program. Exclude those faculty members who may teach a course to nursing students but who are not considered members of the nursing program faculty.

7. Full-time: a nurse faculty member who is employed full-time in the nursing program. Use your institution's definition in defining full-time status.

8. Part-time: a nurse faculty member who is employed in the nursing program for anything less than the number of hours required for full-time employment.

9. Faculty rank: the title held by a nurse faculty member, such as professor, associate professor, assistant professor, instructor, or lecturer.

10. Racial/ethnic categories:

    (a) Black, Non-Hispanic - a person having origins in any of the black racial groups of Africa.

    (b) American Indian or Alaskan Native - a person having origins in any of the original peoples of North America, and who maintains cultural identification through tribal affiliation or community recognition.

    (c) Asian or Pacific Islander - a person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, the Indian Subcontinent or the Pacific Islands. For example, this area includes China, India, Japan, Korea, the Phillippine Islands and Samoa.

    (d) Hispanic - a person of Mexican, Puerto Rican, Cuban, Central or South American or other Spanish culture or origin, regardless of race.

    (e) White, Non-Hispanic - a person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, North Africa or in the Middle East.

11. Professional Nursing Program - Title in the Education Law to describe programs which prepare for registered professional nurse licensure.

12. Practical Nursing Program - Title in the Education Law to describe programs which prepare for practical nurse licensure.
